

Editor-in-Chief

Call for Applications

The Canadian Journal of Diabetes (CJD), a publication of the Professional Section of Diabetes Canada, is accepting applications for the Editor-in-Chief (EIC) position.

The EIC will be the public voice of the CJD and will exercise that voice through appearances on behalf of the journal, through editorials in the journal, and through interactions with scientists and the public.

The EIC will be appointed initially for a 3-year term, and may be re-appointed for an additional 3-year term for a maximum total of 6 years.

We are seeking a candidate who:

1. Has experience and is an expert in the areas of research, clinical practice and/or education.
2. Has a good understanding of related and interprofessional areas, and a sense of the evolving nature of the field and emerging topics.
3. Has a network of national and international contacts and collaborators, and can attract key scientists as authors, reviewers, guest editors and/or board members.
4. Can manage the peer-review process in a sound, efficient and ethical way.
5. Is a strategic thinker and, together with the Publisher and Diabetes Canada, would be comfortable developing ideas about future directions for the journal.

For a more detailed description of the position, please visit: www.diabetes.ca/cjd.

Please submit a résumé and cover letter explaining your suitability for the role to:
Alarica Fernandes, Professional Publications Coordinator, Diabetes Canada
Email: alarica.fernandes@diabetes.ca.

The deadline for applications is July 31, 2017.